Pauric is taking up where Alan Scully left off reading and recording the headstones and other monuments in the parish. Pauric is currently working on the Church of Ireland records which will be assimilated with the history of the Church into a book to be launched in September in conjunction with the centenary celebrations of the Church. He will then progress to Drumphoea Cemetery. Is this to be the last time Myshall will be entered in Tidy Towns? Is the Graveyard Project the last project to be completed under Muintir? The answer to these questions is yes if enough people cannot attend the A.G.M. so please give it your support.
